

Networked Finished Goods

Finished goods specification management and robust reporting for brands and their co-man/co-packing partners.

The World Today

Your co-man and co-packing partners offer scale and agility, but the complexity slows you down. Simply keeping track of ingredient sourcing and compliance can become a massive project, preventing you from unlocking the potential of your partnerships.

Your World Tomorrow

Keep track of your entire manufacturing chain, no matter who owns the supplier relationships. Collaborate on specifications and create a complete, audit-ready view of the documents and data surrounding your finished goods with the push of a button.

Why We're Different

Developed in collaboration with some of our most complex enterprise customers, TraceGains Networked Finished Goods is the only purpose-built solution for unlocking the potential of co-man and co-packing relationships.

What We Provide

- Manage complex relationships between suppliers, items, manufacturing and packing partners, with a complete chain of documentation.
- Exchange specifications and documents easily with partners, retailers and suppliers for simplified compliance and strong collaboration.

Learn More:
tracegains.com

Features

*Customer-Driven,
Purpose Built.*

- Create and share detailed finished goods specifications
- Track ingredient-level sourcing across partners
- Create workflows for different partner types
- View finished goods and ingredients by partner location with configurable status tags
- View partners and partner locations associated with your ingredients, specifications, and formulas
- Track finished goods against both your customers and manufacturing partners
- Track approved ingredients by partner location

Learn More:
tracegains.com

