

Networked Regulatory Global

Global regulatory insights and new market entry

The World Today

An ever-changing global regulatory landscape forces international operators to stay on their toes. The volume and complexity of global regulations can challenge any organization, and failure to comply can have tough repercussions.

Your World Tomorrow

With a single, consolidated source for regulatory data from around the world, teams can build deep understanding of the global marketplace and stay ahead of threats and challenges. Enter new markets with confidence and avoid costly pitfalls.

What We Provide

- A strategic, process-driven approach to compliance built around sophisticated, fully automated scanning of the regulatory environment.
- Centralized tools for organizing and sharing regulatory information.
- Consolidated market entry guides for nearly all of the world's growing economies.

Why We're Different

TraceGains partners with SGS Digicomply, the world's leading source for global intelligence data, to provide an unrivaled resource for global regulatory data, seamlessly integrated to the TraceGains solution set.

FEATURES

- Nearly 200,000 regulations available for 237 countries, regions and territories
- Seamless integration with TraceGains Gather™ workspaces
- Build watchlists and drive cross-team collaboration
- In-depth country guides for 163 countries
- Regulatory guidance from authoritative global sources
- Regulations associated to items based on the industry's leading food ingredient and dietary supplement taxonomy

In-depth Global Regulatory Coverage